When You File a Bank Complaint On-line:

Have you checked our Get Answers section for information about National Bank regulations and your rights as a bank customer?

Have you tried to resolve your complaint with your financial institution? The OCC recommends that you attempt to resolve your complaint with your financial institution first. Please contact your financial institution to allow them the opportunity to resolve your issue(s).

1. Check to make sure that your financial institution is a National Bank. Search Financial Institutions. If the bank is not a National Bank, you should contact the appropriate regulator to submit your complaint.

Note: Effective July 21, 2011, the Office of Thrift Supervision became part of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. The OCC's Consumer Assistance Group assists national bank and federal savings association, or thrift customers; see our OCC/OTS Integration Page for more information.

2. Please select only ONE of the following methods to file your complaint. Do not mail, e-mail, or fax additional information unless requested.

Complete the Online Customer Complaint Form \(Recommended\). For security purposes, the form contains user time limitations. If your session exceeds the limitations, any information you have entered may be lost. To avoid this, gather all necessary information prior to entering the form. See the section: Learn what to include in your complaint.

Print an OCC Complaint Form \(PDF\). [En Español \(PDF\)] To view PDF files, you will need Acrobat Reader. For your convenience, all forms including the online version, request the same information.

Write and mail or fax a letter to the OCC.

3. Have questions? Discuss your question or concern with a customer assistance specialist.

Call the OCC Customer Assistance Group at 1-800-613-6743.
TDD Number 713-658-0340.

4. What can you expect from us.

Check the status of an existing case.

File an appeal.

Note: Effective July 21, 2011, the Office of Thrift Supervision became part of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. The OCC's Consumer Assistance Group assists national bank and federal savings association, or thrift customers; see our OCC/OTS Integration Page for more information.
